Artikel des Tages

Der Großmeisterpalast (englisch Grandmaster's Palace), von den Maltesern nur il-Palazz (deutsch „der Palast“) genannt, ist ein im 16. Jahrhundert errichteter Palast in der maltesischen Hauptstadt Valletta. Das Gebäude, das den größten Profanbau der Stadt darstellt, diente im Laufe der Jahrhunderte den unterschiedlichen Machthabern des Inselarchipels als Amtssitz. Heute ist der teilweise öffentlich zugängliche Großmeisterpalast eine der meistbesuchten Sehenswürdigkeiten Maltas. Wenn im Palast offizielle Staatsempfänge stattfinden, wird das Gebäude für Besucher jedoch gesperrt. 1921 trat in einem der Räume das erste maltesische Parlament zusammen und seit 1976 ist der Palast auch der Amtssitz des Staatspräsidenten der seit 1964 unabhängigen Republik Malta. Im Jahre 1980 wurde der Großmeisterpalast als Bestandteil des Gesamtensembles Valletta in die Kategorie Weltkulturerbe der UNESCO-Welterbeliste aufgenommen. – Zum Artikel ...

A poetic interpretation of FKA Twigs' 2015 EP titled 'M3LL155X'. Through writing, I work through themes of power, body, creativity, intimacy, and feminine energy. Each copy is hand-bound with braided embroidery thread. The thread wraps around your finger and you forge an intimate connection with the book itself. The pages are bound in a way that reveals the inner pages. RISO Printed.

At Singapore Art Book Fair two weekends ago, we were heartened to see for ourselves that print is well and truly #notdead (long live paper!). We believe the printed word, enhanced by beautiful typography and compelling layout, remains the richest medium to convey ideas that spark change and ultimately transform societies and economies.

In a toast to the fellow artists, thinkers, storytellers and innovators who attended, supported, followed (or missed) Singapore Art Book Fair, here's a round-up of a weekend well spent, defined by an outpouring of creativity and an abundance of visual art and content.

This year's fair attracted a well-rounded lineup from near and far, with over 60 local and international exhibitors (twice that of last year's edition) coming together to showcase – in creative consultancy Do Not Design's

KENKASHI: Small Life Doing Big Things

The microbes that surround us reconfigure the world through decomposition, breaking down organic matter and releasing nutrients that feed the plants that feed us.

Kenkashi incorporates beneficial bacteria and mycorrhizal fungi to deliver a microbe-rich compound to the soil through compost acceleration and direct application. The unique, peaty structure of the kenaf substrate harbors the microbes for longer than liquids and also improves the texture and water retention of the soil. Learn more

Cards Against Humanity's

Today is Black Friday, Cards Against Humanity's favorite holiday. This year, we want to remind everyone of the reason for the season: deals.

Holy fuck have we got some deals. Every ten minutes, a new deal will go live on this page. Don't be frightened by the deals. Just click and let the savings wash over you.

As the ancient Mayans foretold, a savings event of this magnitude only occurs once every thousand years. Act now while supplies last.

As a studio, we have always strived to make honest and interesting work for clients and ourselves. (You can see some of that work here.)

We started the studio because we wanted to learn. And learn we did. We had the immense privilege of learning everything from the fine art of proposal writing to creating identity systems that react to music.

And we tried to share what we learned, too. As a final takeaway, please enjoy our Google Drive, scrubbed of all the stuff that would get us sued, but still a sizeable chunk of documents of varying levels of usefulness. It represents the tools we used and created for ourselves along the way and we hope it can provide some insight for anyone who might be curious about this stuff, too.

Thank you to everyone who was a part of it, either by working with us, paying us, believing in us or some combination of the aforementioned.

Onward and upward,
